

ASSESSMENT RUBRIC. A TV PROGRAM

Student's name:_____

| ASPECTS  | 4 EXCELLENT   | 3 GOOD  | 2 NEED IMPROVEMENT   | 1 LOW PERFORMANCE   |
|--|---|---|--|---|
| CREATIVITY &amp; ORIGINAL WORK(TV guide, dubbing of a TV seriesexcerpt, news report video,magazine programme)   | The contents and way ofpresenting the students'outcomes are reallyoriginal.   | The contents and way of presenting students' work are quite original.   | Students need help to get someideas about how to produceoriginal outcomes.   | Students copy ideas from othergroups because they do notknow what attractive contentsto include or how to presenttheir work in an original way.   |
| TEXT STRUCTURE (TVguide presentation, programmereview, dialogues for scenedubbing, news story, script for themagazine programme)  | The paragraph is really easyto read and understand andit is well developed withconnectors that linkdifferent ideas in the text.   | The paragraph is quite easyto read and understand.Connectors are used ascohesive elements quiteconsistently.              | The paragraph is not very easyto follow and some connectorsare not used adequately.  | The reader cannot follow theideas expressed in theparagraph easily. Mostconnectors are not usedcorrectly.   |
| GRAMMAR CORRECTNESS ANDVOCABULARY ADEQUACY(TV guide presentation,questionnaire, programme review,dialogues for a TV series dubbing,presentation of TV jobs andbroadcasting tasks, news story,script for the magazineprogramme) | There are not any grammarmistakes in students'written and oral messages.The vocabulary used isadequate to the topic,  | Some grammar mistakes arefound in students' writtenand oral messages.Most of the vocabulary usedis adequate to the topic. | Students make some grammarmistakes but their messagescan be understood quite clearly.A few words related to thetopic are used.   | Students' messages contain alot of grammar mistakes thatprevent the audience fromunderstanding the messages.Students hardly use keyvocabulary.  |
| PRONUNCIATION, FLUENCYAND INTONATION(TV guide presentation,questionnaire, dubbing of a TVseries excerpt, presentation of TVjobs and broadcasting tasks, newsreport, magazine programme)                                  | Students' pronunciation isvery good and they arevery fluent in their oralmessages.Their intonation is veryadequate to theconversational contextthey are in. | Students' pronunciation andfluency are quite good.Their intonation is adequateto the conversationalcontext they are in.   | Students have some difficultiesin showing fluency becausethey have not practised theirmessages previously.Pronunciation can be improvedon some occasions.Intonation is hardly adequate tothe conversational context. | Students do not showthemselves as fluent speakers,They need a lot of previouspractice to get their messagesacross. Their pronunciation isnot good at all and theirintonation is not adequate tothe conversational context theyare in. |

| ASPECTS                                       | 4 EXCELLENT   | 3 GOOD  | 2 NEED IMPROVEMENT  | 1 LOW PERFORMANCE  |
|---|---|---|---|--|
| PARTICIPATION(Posts on Pinterest)  | Students share their workon Pinterest and 'pin' andmake more than fivecomments on theirclassmates' outcomes.Also, they answer to theirclassmates' comments in aconsistent way.            | Students share their workon Pinterest and 'pin' andmake at least fivecomments on theirclassmates' outcomes.Students occasionallyanswer to their classmates'comments.  | Students share their work onPinterest, but only 'pin' andmake less than three commentson their classmates' outcomes.They do not care aboutanswering to their classmates'comments.                                       | Students do not know how toshare their work on Pinterest.They do not even know how to'pin' or post comments on theirclassmates' work.  |
| LEARNING DIARY(blog at Weebly.com) | All the missions and thechallenge worked onthroughout the project arecorrectly referenced at theblog with all the details,steps and links studentshave used.                                  | Almost all the missions andthe challenge worked onthroughout the project arecorrectly referenced at theblog. All the details, stepsand links have been statedin the students' diary.  | Only a few missions and thechallenge worked onthroughout the project arecorrectly referenced at theblog. Some details, steps andlinks have been collected in hestudents' diary.   | Only one or two missions andthe challenge worked onthroughout the project arecorrectly referenced at theblog. Hardly any details, stepsand links have been stated inthe students' diary. |
| WEEBLY SITE MANAGEMENT                        | The site has several pagesorganized correctly. Everypage includes a title andsubtitles and images. Allthe missions and challengehave been published andthe structure of contents isclear. | The site has several pagesorganized quite correctly.Almost all pages include atitle and subtitles, but thereare not any images. Mostmissions and the challengehave been published andthe structure of contents isquite clear. | Only one or two missions andthe challenge have been postedon the site. The site containsseveral pages, but it does notfollow a clear structure ofcontents. Internet users havesome difficulties in surfing thesite. | Students need help to organizethe pages in site and publishthe missions and challenge.   |

